Criteria For Applications

Generous donors make it possible for Five Oaks to offer financial support to help cover the costs of attending a program. Five Oaks has limited funds available to support the program(s) you are interested in, therefore, the following criteria have been established to help guide the allocation of Five Oaks bursary funds:

- Five Oaks will provide bursary support for up to 1/3 of the published cost of a program, to a maximum of $200 per person per year.
- Applications must be received well in advance of the program start date so that the submission can be reviewed or so that there is time for the participant to seek other sources of funding.
- Priority will be given to supporting lay-people and people who do not belong to a congregation who, therefore, would not be eligible for United Church Conference grants.
- Although priority will be given to those who travel more than 100km to arrive at Five Oaks, bursary funds are only available to help cover up to 1/3 of the cost of a program. Funds are not available to pay for travel related costs.
- Applicants must show that they have applied for other available funds (see our website for details) or that the program they wish to attend does not meet the criteria of these funds.
